PAWLEY'S ISLAND, S. C., July 14, 1889. Dear Watchman & Southron: While resting by the deep blue sea and enjoying its refreshing and invigorating breeze I am not forgetful of those who are kept at home and debarred the pleasures to be found here, and for their entertainment and also for the benefit of those who can leave, and are casting about for a suitable place to recuperate, I will write a few words about Pawley's Island which I think will be read with inter-

After a refreshing night's rest, we resumed our journey at six o'clock Thursday morning and that evening on the Sunday following, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Brown being away on his summer vacareached the home of Georgetown's popular and entertaining Sheriff, Josiah Doar, who took us in and cared for us as he so well knows how to do. We reached the Island on Friday and are now being braced up by the resh salt breeze and the roaring surf. I have not had an opportunity, as yet, to test all the pleasures to be found on Pawley's Island, and will therefore, only speak for the present so far as I know. In the natural order of things my first concern was to find a place to call home while here, and this I did at the Pawley's Island Hotel; and right here I wish to call the attention of the people of Sumter to this hotel and what they may expect should they visit this house. The building itself is a large twostory house with large, well-ventilated rooms, and is splendidly located, being within fifty yards of old ocean and in full view of its restess, roaring waves as they break on one of the finest stretches of beach to be found anywhere. The house which was built for summer residence, before the war by Mr. Plowden C. J. Weston, a wealthy Waccama w rice planter, of English parentage, and who was Lieut. Governor of this State I think, in 1863-64, is the largest on the Island, is well shaded, has a good well of water, and under the experienced and attentive management of Mrs. A. K. Richardson, is a most desirable place to spend one's summer holiday. Mrs. Richardson spares no pains or expense which will add to the comfort or pleasure of her guests. Her table is supplied with the best of everything that can be procured, and to everyone who craves the many delicaces supplied by the sea, I say you may come with the assurance of having your cravings satisfied. Everything is prepared under the immediate supervision of the hostess in a manner which cannot fail to please the most fastidious. Capt. Richardson, who owns a large coastng vessel running between New York, Baltimore and Georgetown is expected home this week, and will spend the Summer; and I can safely predict that his knowledge of the sea will be turned to good account in giving his guests many pleasant fishing and sailing excursions. His experienced and steady hand at the helm will be a guarantee against accident and will enable the inexperienced and timid up-country visitors to enjoy these pleasures to

Editor Watchman and Southron:

I have just received the inclosed letter from J. R. Wylie, President of the Piedmont Exposition Company of Atlanta, Ga., and think that the best way to lay the matter before the Farmers' Alliance, and the people of the county is to publish the letter in your columns. In a copy of the rules and regulations governing entries, sent me, I notice that individual exhibitors will be allotted 100 square feet of space free of charge and each additional hundred square feet will be charged for at from $3.00 to $8.60, according to location; but "States, Counties and County Alliances etc., without charge." I desire to give this matter the widest cirbly represented, if the Alliance or the people of the County think it desirable. There are a number of Sumter County in-play. Among those that I can recall just now are the Cotton Harvester, the Cylinder Guano Distributors, a Water Power, etc. woods, as was shown by the specimens sent to the New Orleans Exposition; and I have contribute to the exhibit.

Our field crop exhibit need not be second productive farms in this County, and one of 16th the successful farmers of the upper part of the County, annually takes premiums on corn at the State Fair. Our ladies can make handsome exhibits of their handiwork in art, needle work, and Friend Bradbam can make a log cart that will haul our biggest pines or even a California giant, if he should receive an order for one for that purpose. Others can think of a number of ways, besides those mentioned above, whereby the resources of our County could be shown. I think this matter worth the serious conbelieve an exhibit can be gotten up that would take one of the County premiums, if every one would interest himself and herself to either of the premiums, and an untold amount to secure the first.

THE PIEDMONT EXPOSITION COMPANY. ATLANTA, GA., July 12, 1889. E. W. Dabbs, Secretary, Mayesville,, S. C .: Events of the day admonish us that the Piedmont Exposition of 1889, will attract agriculturists, manufacturers, and practical men generally that ever attended a Southern October of the present year. For this reason t behooves every county and county alliance to be represented at this great Exposition, which will be a material factor in adding to the prosperity of the South. It is the earnest request and desire of the Exposition Company, that the material resources of your section be advantageously displayed at our Exposition. We appeal to you on the ground of local pride. State fealty and Southern prosperity, to gather the best samples of your products, and present them here in creditable form.

From Dr. W. P. Harrison, NASHVILLE, TENN. May 2, 1888-I have used Swift's Specific in my family for some time, and believe it to be an excellent remedy for all impu-rities of the blood. In my own case, I believe that I have warded off a severe attack of rhenmat I have warded of a severe attack of incu-matism in the shoulder by a timely resort to this efficient remedy. In all cases where a per-manent relief is sought this medicine com-mends itself for a constitutional treatment that thoroughly eradicates the seeds of disease from the system. Rev. W. P. Harrison.

WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1883. Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itering and sting-ing of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to the skill she commenced to she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty, fine-looking haly, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly,
